

1984

Conference of CSUF Alumni Inaugural Convocation
November 1983

California State University, Fullerton
President
Jewel Plummer Cobb

To the 1984 Senior Class,

May I, at this time, extend to you congratulations for the successful completion of your undergraduate or graduate career at Cal State, Fullerton.

As you have studied, discussed, explored and assimilated literally hundreds of new concepts, theories and facts, you have contributed to the spirit, strength and vitality of our campus. You will, I'm sure, continue to contribute your talents to society as you apply the knowledge and wisdom you have acquired while at CSUF. To have achieved your academic goals during these past years you have exercised discipline and energy. May you sustain the disciplined commitment and focused energy of your CSUF years in the future as you tackle new projects.

The years you have spent at CSUF have been years of maturation, acquisition of knowledge and accumulation of wisdom. We know that you have received a strong foundation on which to build your future career, whether your interests lie in the arts, the humanities, the sciences or the professions such as business, teaching, or engineering. You have a bright future ahead of you. I wish you good luck to add your knowledge and skills.

We look forward to keeping in close contact with the very important person you become as an alumnus of the University.

Conference of CSUF Alumni
President
A. Terrance Dickens

On behalf of Cal State Fullerton Alumni may I congratulate you for completing your degree program at Cal State Fullerton . . . and welcome you to the Conference of CSUF Alumni. (You are automatically a member as you graduate from the University.)

We hope your years with the University have been full of personal growth. CSUF has tried to contribute significantly to your life by helping you know as much as possible about yourself and the world around you.

As a member of the Alumni Organization, you retain many of the privileges granted to students, among which are use of the library and recreational facilities, as well as reduced rates for a variety of campus events. We will also keep you informed about University activities through our quarterly newsletter, Titan News.

We invite you to enter into a new kind of reciprocal relationship with the University, one in which we serve each other. Keep in touch with us. Come back to campus often to participate in various alumni programs and university-wide events.

All of us wish the very best of everything to each of you.

School of the Arts

Dean
Jerry Samuelson

On behalf of the faculty of the School of the Arts, I extend to you our best wishes for continued success in the Arts. You will play a central role in extending the influence of the Arts in enriching the quality of life in these times. The growth of the Arts in Orange County in the last five years is extraordinary. The completion of two new amphitheaters, extension and renovations of area museums, growth of small theaters, and the building of a multimillion dollar Orange County Performing Arts Center signal the Arts' explosion in this area. The "cultural wasteland" is breaking forth into full bloom.

We are committed to our mission of providing an environment for growth and extension of the individual artist. We are proud of the individual past accomplishments of our graduates and we look forward to watching your artistic endeavors in the future.

As we look to 1984-85 and the 25th Anniversary celebration, we hope you will return to campus to join with us as we reflect on the past success and look forward to the future.

School of Business Administration and Economics

Dean
Jack W. Coleman

I would like to extend the best wishes of the faculty and staff of the School of Business Administration and Economics on the completion of your degree at California State University, Fullerton.

The SBAE believes that it has created an educational environment that excites an individual's intellectual curiosity. Hopefully, your educational experience has taught you to think — think constructively, imaginatively, and creatively. You should recognize the significant role of the work ethic to your future successes; that is, your willingness to roll up your sleeves and go to work and to capitalize on your knowledge and ability to think. To commit to being a professional means that you are committing, not to a Bachelor's Degree nor to a Master's Degree, but to a lifetime of learning.

As you graduate, I wish you much success in your future endeavors. I hope that your interest and commitment to CSUF and the School of Business will continue through the years with your involvement with the Council of Alumni and letting others know of the excellent education which you received here. Remember, you are always welcome to return for a visit, to enjoy the facilities, or to take additional courses. Once again, best wishes in all your personal and career goals.

School of Human Development and Community Service

Dean
Jerry A. Facione

If there were only one attitude that I would hope that you, as graduates of the School of Human Development and Community Service, would exhibit in your careers, that attitude would be one of caring professionalism. The caring professional is a person who treats people as people, not a machine who treats people like things. He or she is one who is knowledgeable both technically and theoretically, understanding and being able to explain not just what to do, but how and why it is done. The caring professional is responsible to the needs of the profession itself, including the need to attract the best persons as professional colleagues. Caring professionals seek new and better ways to serve; they treat the profession as something they become, not just as jobs they do. Integrity and a constant pursuit of excellence in practice are hallmarks of the caring professional. Active pursuit of continuing professional renewal and growth are seen as essential.

As you continue your careers and grow in ability you will learn things that would help us here at CSUF achieve our goals as caring professionals to continually improve our programs. We expect and welcome your advice. We seek and we need your support. We look forward to a relationship with you as colleagues with mutual interests and concerns.

School of Humanities and Social Services

Dean
Don A. Schweitzer

On behalf of the faculty of the School of Humanities and Social Sciences, I offer sincere congratulations to you, the 1984 graduates of California State University, Fullerton.

Each of you brought to CSUF your own unique past. We have added to your personal histories in various ways. Just as your lives are different, I'm certain that your experiences here were different. Nonetheless, my hope for each of you is that the positive aspects of your time with us outweigh the negative ones. Now, of course, is not the time to decide about that, because the critical-thinking ability and value orientations that are the hallmarks of a Liberal Arts education are not always discernable at graduation. Rather, as students from these disciplines make significant life choices, the effectiveness and value of their education begins to appear.

It should be clear that the world which produced our pasts and holds our futures demands that we continue the process of learning. Over the course of your formal education, several people have tried to teach you how to learn. As before, it is hard to know at graduation whether or not they have succeeded. If they have, then you will be recognized as truly educated people and you will succeed in whatever is ahead for you.

For the faculty and for myself, I extend very best wishes for a successful rewarding, and fulfilling future.

School of Mathematics, Science, and Engineering

Dean
A. James Diefenderfer

Congratulations on successfully completing this stage of what I hope will be your continued education and personal and professional growth. You can be proud of what you have achieved, and we are proud to have you as alumni of our school.

As you leave our School of Mathematics, Science and Engineering, you are entering a society that will depend heavily on you, a society that is pervaded by technology and requires technologically sophisticated people to keep it progressing. You will also be asked to mix your new found skills and abilities with a sensitivity to the ways in which technology affects our society. We are confident that your abilities and the education you have received at Fullerton will allow you to meet this challenge, that you will respond to the problems that you are asked to solve with imagination and wisdom.

All of us who are affiliated with the school and the university wish you success in your life. While you have been here, you have given a great deal to us; as you leave us, we hope you will remember your experiences as positive ones and will find them supportive on your continued growth as you confront the future.

Sports

FOOTBALL

Titan football came of age in 1983 as Fullerton recorded its first winning season (7-5) at the Division I level and did it in grand style by winning its first Pacific Coast Athletic Association championship and earning a berth in the California Bowl in Fresno in December against Northern Illinois, champion of the Mid-American Conference.

Coach Gene Murphy earned PCAA Coach of the Year honors and middle guard Joe Aguilar was the league's defensive player of the year. Cornerbacks Lee Miller and Mark Collins were among the nation's leaders in pass interceptions and Roy Lewis inched his way up in the all-time NCAA kick-off return statistics.

Among the exciting victories were first-ever triumphs over conference foes San Jose State and Utah State, and a first-ever win at Boise State.

VOLLEYBALL

Titan coach Fran Cummings continued to build a solid Division I program in 1983. Although Fullerton won just five of 33 games, the Titans were in almost every game over the final two-thirds of the season. Kristen Bowlin and Jackie Bougie made the Titans very competitive in the Western Collegiate Athletic Association, which annually sends six of its eight teams to the NCAA playoffs.

SOCCER

Coach Al Mistri took a very young and inexperienced soccer team into the new Pacific Coast Athletic Association alignment in 1983 and came away with encouraging results.

The Titans finished the year with an overall mark of 7-11-2 as they played national powers such as Nevada-Las Vegas, UCLA and University of San Francisco on competitive terms.

Individual highlights centered around teammate Mike Fox, who was selected to join the 1984 U.S. Olympic team.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The women's basketball team had its most successful season in many years, finishing fourth in the prestigious WCAA. The Titans were faced with the unexpected absence of last year's top two scorers but they relied on teamwork and defense to become a competitive force in the WCAA. A lopsided win at UCLA before a television audience was one of the year's highlights.

20 MEN'S BASKETBALL

A series of heartbreaking, narrow defeats down the stretch took the glitter off the 1983-84 basketball season.

How close was it to being a great year? The strategic placement of just 12 points could have turned it into a respectable 17-13 season into a 25-5 masterpiece by reversing four overtime and four one-point defeats. Still there was the championship of the Hawaii Tip-Off Classic and a rare and emotional televised victory at Fresno State.

Senior Leon Wood made everybody's All-American first or second teams as well as the U.S. Olympic team. He was the 10th player selected in the NBA draft, going to the Philadelphia 76ers while teammate Ozell Jones was taken in the fourth round by San Antonio.

WOMEN'S GYMNASTICS

The women's gymnastics team finished as one of the top three teams in the nation for the ninth consecutive year in 1984. The Titans finished third in the NCAA championships and were awarded seven All-American awards. During the season, Fullerton beat each of the teams that finished in the top four, including four-time national champion University of Utah.

MEN'S GYMNASTICS

NCAA CHAMPIONS

For the tenth consecutive year, Cal State Fullerton's men's gymnastics team won the Pacific Coast Athletic Association Championship and continued their domination over the other conference teams. Head coach Dick Wolfe continued his string of having gymnasts qualify for the national championships with two gymnasts qualifying this year.

SOFTBALL

Coach Judi Garman's women's softball team was the nation's No. 1 ranked squad most of the year and the Titans finished with a sparkling 55-12 record. But that season came to an abrupt halt in the NCAA regional playoffs when defending national champion Texas A&M handed Fullerton back-to-back losses in Fullerton. The Titans, who tied UCLA for the WCAA championship, placed outfielder Sue Lewis on the All-American team.

BASEBALL NCAA CHAMPIONS

Coach Augie Garrido and his Titan baseball squad provided the crowning glory to a remarkably successful 1983-84 athletic year at Cal State Fullerton by winning their second national championship with a victory in the College World Series in Omaha.

Going on the road for the regionals for the tenth time in 10 years, Fullerton found itself in Fresno with a field that included USC, San Diego State and Fresno State. Fullerton overpowered USC (10-6) and San Diego State (16-6) and then survived a valiant attempt by San Diego to come back through the losers' bracket. It came down to one championship game and it went Fullerton's way when John Bryant singled home Bob Caffrey in the 11th inning for an 8-7 Titan victory and trip to Omaha.

In the eight-team field in Nebraska, Fullerton found itself matched against some of the most storied and tradition-steeped institutions in the country. After winning the first game, Fullerton was knocked in the losers' bracket by the University of Texas (6-4). Playing under sudden-death conditions, the Titans responded by eliminating the University of Miami, (13-5), No. 1 ranked Arizona State (6-1), No. 2 ranked Oklahoma State (10-2), to set up a "winner take all" with Texas.

Eddie Delzer got the starting mound call and collaborated with reliever Scott Wright on a three-hit, 3-1 victory over the Longhorns, the defending national champions. Left fielder John Fishel hit .520 and was selected the Outstanding Player of the World Series.

The Titans broke numerous school records and established a pair of NCAA team marks — 29 saves and 81 batters hit by opposing pitchers. Wright set NCAA individual records for saves in a season (22) and career (32) and game appearances in a season (47) and career (110).

Alpha Chi Omega Sorority

"Together let us seek the heights," is the open motto of all Alpha Chi Omegas, and the Epsilon Kappa chapter of Cal State Fullerton follows it very closely. Their special sisterhood encourages them to develop, through personal effort, high moral and mental standards. Through their efforts for the benefit of the fraternity's National Philanthropies, Easter Seals, Cystic Fibrosis, Self-Help Toy, and McDowell Colony, the Alpha Chis share their energies with others. Dedication to the University is also one of the chapter's requirements, and members have participated on pep squads as well as holding offices in various campus leadership organizations.

Delta Zeta Sorority

The Iota Upsilon chapter of Delta Zeta experienced new growth and reaped many new rewards in 1983-84. Growth came not only in membership, but in other ways such as increased giving to philanthropies and trying to add more support to the total Greek system. Membership did, however, increase by 23 during the Fall. And as the only sorority on campus to hold Spring Rush, six new girls were pledged in March.

Of their many philanthropic endeavors, the Ear and Hearing Institute of Los Angeles remains the most recent addition. Another DZ philanthropy occurred at the beginning of each meeting. In lieu of answering "here" to roll call, each member donated a "can or quarter". The money and food was then distributed to needy families through local charities. Other fundraisers included two auctions, paper drives and the Panhellenic annual candy sale. As top selling house, Delta Zeta received a $400 reward for outstanding support of Panhellenic.

As representatives of CSUF to Delta Zeta's national sorority, the girls strived for improvement in all areas, "The hard work really paid off" says Suzanne Trueblood, "at our Providence Day in April as we won 7 out of 12 awards, including a tie for most outstanding chapter in Southern California and Nevada." On campus the Delta Zetas also captured second place during Greek Week and were honored as Intramurals Sports Team of the Month in September.

Gamma Phi Beta Sorority

The Delta Delta chapter of Gamma Phi Beta was involved in many campus, community and social activities this past year. Many women participated in intramurals, Camp Titan, Associated Students, New Student Orientation, and other campus organizations.

One of Gamma Phi Beta philanthropy projects aids underprivileged girls at Camp Sechelt in Canada.

Their social spectrum includes exchanges with various fraternities, an annual Crescent Ball in the spring, and the fall Presents Dance.

Gamma Phi Beta enjoys Panhellenic functions with other campus sororities and works hard to maintain their excellent relationship with them. This past year, Gamma Phi Beta received the Scholarship Award for maintaining the highest G.P.A. of all sororities on campus. They were also awarded the Panhellenic Spirit Trophy for overall excellence throughout the year.

The sisters of Gamma Phi Beta would like to wish California State University, Fullerton congratulations on its 25th anniversary.

Sigma Alpha Epsilon Fraternity

D. Thomas 1980

Sigma Alpha Epsilon is the largest fraternal organization in the country. It was founded on friendship, hard work, love and respect — a foundation which insures the continued success of SAE at Cal State Fullerton. The SAE experience completes the college education by filling the social holes in the traditional CSUF academic degree. This past year they had 69 brothers who were active in every sense of the word. From Associated Students to Pub, SAE's were involved in almost all campus activities including: Greek Week, Intramurals, Intercollegiate Sports, A.S. Productions, Alumni Association and many other campus organizations. In addition, SAE's were very involved in community service. Locally they contributed volunteer hours to the Children's Hospital of Orange County, as well as provided counselors for Camp Titan. Nationally they have yearly fundraisers for Easter Seals.

Quoted from one fraternity member, "We are all proud to be brothers of such a great fraternity. The spirit of Sigma Alpha Epsilon will live on forever. The cliché 'remember when' will always bring a smile when we reminisce about the good ol' college days and Sigma Alpha Epsilon. Congratulations to our brothers in the Class of 1984."
